Tommy Dorsey Is Found Dead

Top Bandleader Chokes To Death On Food Particles

GREENWICH, Conn., Nov. 26 (AP)—Bandleader Tommy Dorsey died today in his sprawling $130,000 mansion, apparently the victim of a bizarre accident while he slept. An air of mystery surrounded the death of the bespectacled "sentimental gentleman of swing," Dorsey, 51, and his brother, Jimmy, were familiar to millions of music lovers the world over. The mystery was perhaps brought about by one of Dorsey's own erratic habits—one of writing notes. When police entered the home today, they found a note to his third wife, Janie, who was divorcing him. Added to that, too, was the difficulty of telling exactly what happened to the famous trombonist in the night. Dr. C. Stanley Knapp, medical examiner, said Dorsey choked to death on food particles which he apparently threw up in his sleep. What caused Dorsey to become ill or why he did not awaken will probably always remain unknown. Sequence Of Events Police and friends who had known him for years pieced together the following sequence of events: Dorsey dined last night with his wife, and her mother, Mrs. Ruth New of Atlanta, at the Dorsey home, which is tucked away on a private road and hidden by thick shrubbery. About 8:30 he told Mrs. Dorsey he felt tired and was going to bed. She called him twice between 9 and 9:30 for telephone calls, and told police she saw him groggily staggering about the room. The last person who apparently talked to Tommy was his personal manager Tino Barzic, who telephoned him from Pittsfield, Mass., at 10 p.m. Agent Finds Body No one thought it odd when Dorsey did not come out of his bedroom all this morning. His body agent, Vincent Carbone, finally tried to rouse him about 2 p.m., and finding the door locked climbed in through a window and found Dorsey dead. Dr. Knapp said following an autopsy he believed Dorsey died about 2 a.m. Police found a scribbled note to Mrs. Dorsey and declined to make it public. Later, Barzic said Dorsey often wrote notes by the dozen and read newspapermen a copy of the last note to his wife. In it Dorsey thanked his wife for the dinner the previous evening. Barzic said Dorsey was not a drinker and only took an occasional glass of wine. He said Dorsey would sometimes take sleeping pills when he had trouble getting to sleep but said Dorsey would often catnap. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Iraq Asks U.S. For More Air Defense Arms

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Iraq formally asked today for American jet planes and anti-aircraft "defensive weapons." The request came amid reports that a group of pro-Soviet army officers has seized virtual control of neighboring Syria. Iraq's Ambassador Moussa Al-Shabandar asked for the arms during a call at the State Department. His government has a military aid agreement with the United States signed in 1954. "We just don't have enough arms, taking into account the actual situation in the world," he told a reporter afterward.

Prompt Consideration "We especially want to increase our aerial defenses and we hope these weapons will be shipped as quickly as possible." State Department officials, who had been seriously concerned over reports of new Soviet weapons reaching Syria, said they would give prompt consideration to Iraq's request. An undisclosed quantity of American weapons including tanks, artillery and light arms have been delivered to Iraq under the 1954 aid agreement. These arms were sent in order to help Iraq, a member of the Western Baghdad Pact, strengthen its defense against possible aggression.

Friction With Syria The Iraq envoy, in discussing the new arms request, sought to play down reports of mounting friction between his government and Syria. On Sunday, Syrian army officers and a member of the Syrian government charged Iraq with plotting against Syria's welfare. "We don't know exactly what is going on in Syria," Shabandar said. "All those reports of friction with us—those are family troubles and we are going to solve them peacefully."

Tanks Pull Trolleys In Hungary Capital

BUDAPEST, Nov. 26 (AP)—Tank-drawn street cars were the latest thing in this revolution-battered Hungarian capital today. A few street cars were running and several bus lines. However, downtown Budapest where electric cables were damaged or tracks torn up, trolley traffic was at a standstill. Near Moscow Square, on the Buda side of the capital, Russian tanks were observed pulling packed street cars where the electric lines had been cut but where tracks remained.

Firemen Save Girl From Death

Firemen climax a half-hour battle in a gravel pit mud hole at South Bend, Ind., to pull Susan Elliott, 12, to safety. Susan and two boy companions, playing on frozen earth, broke through the thin crust into the muck. The boys scrambled to safety and called firemen, who said Susan had sunk to her waist when they arrived. She was taken to the hospital for treatment of exposure. (AP Photofax)

Trend Toward Work Renewal By Hungarians

BUDAPEST, Nov. 26 (AP)—There was a general trend toward resumption of work and a return to whatever normal living is possible in Russian-occupied Hungary today. The Budapest Workers' Council promoted the back-to-work movement even while insisting the Communist government must meet popular demand for the return of former Premier Imre Nagy and the withdrawal of Russian troops. "The workers have to live," a council spokesman said. But many factories were still idle. This was due in some cases to unrepaid machinery and in others to passive worker resistance. Informed sources here put little credence in reports abroad about Russian troop movements toward Hungary toward the Yugoslav border. These sources said they had checked earlier rumors of a movement of 20 Russian divisions into Hungary and found nothing to substantiate them. A number of young deportees were reported to have been returned from Uzhgorod, capital of the Carpatho-Ukraine. These young people told the Budapest Workers' Council there are about 1,500 Hungarians at Uzhgorod. The council is determined to demand their return in its talks with Premier Janos Kadar and with the Soviet military command here. Hungarians interpreted a speech by Premier Kadar yesterday to the members of the Budapest Workers' Council as a return to the policy of the big stick, dictated by the Soviet military command. But members of the council, interviewed at their headquarters here, defied Kadar and insisted on their original demands for the return of Nagy now officially reported "visiting in Romania," and the withdrawal of Russian troops.

Wilson Gives Air Force Control Of All Missiles With Range Of Over 200 Miles

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today gave the Air Force control of all present and future missiles with a range of more than 200 miles, limited the Army's own growing aviation buildup and called for reduced Air Force tactical support for ground warfare operations. In a memorandum to the heads of the military services, Wilson said his actions were "mandatory" to clarify the roles and missions of the Air Force and the Army, to avoid unnecessary duplications and to make the best use of defense funds. The decision by Wilson is designed to end the rivalry between the two services in the aviation and missile fields. Specifically, it will take from the Army the control of the Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile which the Army is perfecting at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala. The Army may be able to retain control of its Redstone missile, already in production stage, because the Wilson decision set a range limit of 200 miles on surface-to-surface bombardment missiles for the Army. The announced range of the Redstone missile is about 200 miles. On another point of controversy between the Army and the Air Force, the operation of anti-air-

Police Arrest Two Suspects In Bullitt Theft

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 26 (AP)—Police today arrested two men in connection with the huge cash theft at the elaborate William Marshall Bullitt Oxblood estate. Charged with vagrancy pending further investigation were men booked as Earl Vincent Burton, 33, and James Hairston, 31, both of Louisville. They were freed on $500 bond. Both have previous records of safe breaking, police said. The $274,000 originally reported stolen from the concealed wall safe on the 1,100 acre Bullitt estate late Saturday night or early yesterday was scaled down to a figure under $100,000 today by Bullitt and members of his household. But police said they have no reason to change the original figure. Mrs. Bullitt said today the amount missing from the safe—was hidden by a wooden panel—was under $100,000. She thought the amount would be around $77,000.

Ike Golfs Following Arrival In Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 26 (AP)—An eager President Eisenhower hustled off to the golf course on arrival today for up to two weeks of vacation combined with work. "Hi, folks," he called cheerily to a crowd of about 200 persons who turned out to welcome him and Mrs. Eisenhower at Bush Airport. They arrived at 1:03 p.m. after a two-hour flight from Washington in the President's private plane, Columbine III. The sun was shining brightly and the temperature was 51 degrees.

Chiang Brushes Off Chou's Invitation

TAIPEI, Formosa, Tuesday, Nov. 27 (AP)—Official quarters brushed aside as nonsense today an invitation from Premier Chou En-lai of Red China to President Chiang Kai-shek to return. Chou was quoted yesterday as saying a Phnom Penh on an official visit to Cambodia that Chiang could have a high post in the Chinese Communist government in Peiping. "Minister would be too low a rank for Chiang," Chou said. He suggested Chiang be given a post like that of Gen. Fu Tsoyi, a member of Red China's National Defense Council.

Minister To Israel Recalled By Turkey

ANKARA, Nov. 26 (AP)—Turkey announced tonight it is recalling its minister to Israel. Reliable informants said Turkey has decided to cool off relations with Israel as a conciliatory gesture toward Arab states angry over the Israeli attack on Egypt.

Turks Assail Syria For Red Arms Buildup

Egypt Instigates Trouble In Arab Bloc, Ankara Says

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Nov. 26 (AP)—Syria came under bitter Turkish attack today for accepting Soviet weapons, imposing martial law and allegedly concentrating troops along the border of Lebanon, a sister state in the Arab sphere. Radio Ankara brought into the open charges—long circulated in the coffee houses and market places of the Middle East—that Egypt is instigating large-scale trouble in other Arab nations with Communist help.

Pro-Russians Control Army

Much of that trouble has arisen in Syria, whose 60,000-man army fell under control of a group of pro-Soviet officers headed by Col. Abdul Hamid Saraj in a silent coup the day fighting broke out in Egypt. Saraj, about 32, is a Nationalist strong man in the style of Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser. The Turkish radio commentator said investigation showed Egyptian agents played a part in recent disturbances in Lebanon, a little half-Christian, half-Muslim republic where some French and British buildings have been the targets of bombing attacks. He said arms and explosives had been smuggled into Lebanon on behalf of both Egypt and Syria. In one case, he reported, bombs were found in the car of an Egyptian Embassy staff member and an arms cache was uncovered in the home of the car's chauffeur.

Syria Assails Lebanon, Iraq

Lebanon is more Western-minded than some of the Arab nations and has been the subject of Syrian propaganda attacks almost as vitriolic as those Syria has leveled at Arab Iraq, a charter member of the British-sponsored Baghdad Pact.

A charge by a Syrian military spokesman Friday that Iraq tried to furnish heavy arms for a coup aimed at overthrowing Syria's government was echoed today by the Russians. The Moscow radio, ignoring Iraq's dismissal of the charge as nonsense, said it was a criminal affair. It accused Iraq of fostering "subversive activities in Syria."

Demos Ponder $815,389 Deficit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The top brass of the Democratic Party pondered an $815,389 deficit today but reached no conclusions on how to get out of the red.

The 11-man executive committee of the Democratic National Committee met in closed session. National Chairman Paul M. Butler said no conclusions on the deficit were reached.

He said $659,212 of the deficit was built up during the 1956 campaign.

Butler added there was no mention of whether he will step out or continue as party chairman. Before the meeting started, Butler said committee members could bring up anything they wished, "including anything that is personal to me." That was in reference to reports that some party leaders would like to see Butler step aside. Butler repeated that he will make no effort to prevent any discussion along that line and reaffirmed his intention to keep his job unless the committee specifically told him he wasn't wanted.

Silent, Swift Forest Fire Blazes On After Killing 11

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—A forest fire described as strangely silent but terribly swift, killed 11 firefighters last night and burned through its third day today with no end in sight. The 11 men were forced back against a cliff and perished as they tried to claw their way up the steep sides. U. S. Forest Service officials said they were in control along only about 20 miles of the 73-mile perimeter of the blaze in the Cleveland National Forest. Men who survived the trap in which the others perished, said the flames—whipped about them by a sudden shift in the wind—made no noise and gave no warning. "I've never seen anything like this fire," declared Ralph L. Fennel, specialist in backfiring technique. "It burns without a sound. There isn't a bit of moisture in the underbrush to cause crackling. 'Until the winds die down or shift, or unless it rains the whole United States Air Force and one hundred million dollars can't stop this fire.' The Weather Bureau said the dry northeast and east winds would continue. Forestry officials said the fire, blazing through its third day, had been partly checked on the southwest front near the San Diego suburb of Lakeside, but was running uncontrolled along a 40-mile front to the south. Approximately 40,000 acres, stretching from near the mountain top town of Julian to within six miles of Lakeside, had been blackened.

IRS Head Sees Excise Taxes Here To Stay

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Miscellaneous excise taxes—first imposed as a wartime emergency—may be here to stay, a congressional subcommittee was told today. Commissioner Russell Harrington of the Internal Revenue Service presented a lengthy report which said the taxes henceforth "should be regarded as a permanent part of the federal tax structure." The miscellaneous excise taxes are a sort of federal sales tax levied on specific items such as luggage, furs, jewelry, transportation, telephone calls, telegrams and admissions. These are collected at the retail level. Some excise taxes, such as those on automobiles, are collected from the manufacturer, who passes the tax along. Altogether they produce some 750 million dollars annually in revenue. Harrington presented his report at a meeting of a House Ways and Means subcommittee headed by Rep. Forand (D-RI).

$750 Million Annually

Smith indicated that when and if any tax reductions are recommended, the first cut would be applied to personal income taxes. Rep. Eberhardt (D-Pa.) asked Smith why, since Congress had been extending excise rates year after year, it would not be a good idea to establish the rates permanently or until further action by Congress.

"Because we had had hopes—and do have hopes—of a substantial reduction," Smith replied. "We would like to keep those hopes alive."

Personal Tax Cut Priority

Smith indicated that when and if any tax reductions are recommended, the first cut would be applied to personal income taxes. Rep. Eberhardt (D-Pa.) asked Smith why, since Congress had been extending excise rates year after year, it would not be a good idea to establish the rates permanently or until further action by Congress.

Objections By Russians Overridden

Soviets Demand Britain, France Israel Pay Costs

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—The U. N. Assembly overrode Soviet objections tonight and approved a grant of 10 million dollars to pay the initial costs of the emergency police force in Egypt. The vote was 52-9 with 13 countries abstaining. Only the Soviet bloc countries voted against it. The United States, Britain and France voted for it. Those countries abstaining were Cambodia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Israel, Luxembourg, Mexico, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Turkey and South Africa. The resolution authorized Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to draw on a working capital fund of the U. N. for the expenses. It left to later Assembly action just how this money is to be repaid to the capital fund. Won't Pay, Russia Says Before the balloting, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov demanded that Britain, France and Israel pay the full cost of the emergency force in Egypt and of clearing the Suez Canal. Kuznetsov told the Assembly that the Soviet Union would not accept any financial responsibility for either the police or salvage costs. He spoke in the closing stages of another Middle East debate while the U. N. waited to see whether Britain, France and Israel would obey Assembly requests to get out of Egypt. Four Latin-American countries, Paraguay, Costa Rica, El Salvador and Mexico, served notice in the Assembly also they will not pay any part of the salvage costs. These comments indicated a revolt by U. N. members against paying any part of the damages to the canal but thus far the Soviet delegate was the only one to refuse publicly to assume any of the cost of the emergency force. Australia Deplores Rift Meanwhile, Australian Foreign Secretary Richard G. Casey sought to repair the rift between the United States and her Western allies over Egypt. Casey, one of the leading statesmen in the British Commonwealth and known as a good friend of the United States also, brought into the open the privately expressed wishes of many Western diplomats when he said: "We in Australia say to our mother country Britain and to our good friends in the United States: put first things first... unite in mutual trust and get together for the good of the whole democratic world."

Cost Of Living Hits New High

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The government today chalked up another new record high in the nation's living costs and said they are still climbing. An increase of half a per cent from September to October sent the Labor Department index to 117.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is the fourth new record level reached this year.

The new living cost boost gives a pay increase to 1 1/4 million workers in the auto, aircraft, farm equipment, electrical and scattered other industries. Most will get an extra two cents an hour. Wages of these workers are geared partly to what happens to the government's living cost index. The October consumer price level is 2.4 per cent above the same month last year. Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said living costs still are trending upward but he saw no reason for fears the economy was "blowing its top" in an inflationary spiral. "None of this is anything of a panicky type of thing," Clague said. "It's just firmness." He apparently meant the "firmness" of an expanding economy in which wages and consumer spending are also increasing. Clague reported that factory production worker earnings have also hit a new high. He said sustained consumer spending partly explains the price increases.

Irish To Ration Gas

DUBLIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Irish government announced tonight it will start rationing gasoline Jan. 1. Beginning next weekend no gasoline will be sold from Saturday noon until Monday morning.

Butler Asserts Both Parties Avoid Spirit Of Law On Spending

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler told Congress today there's "no use...trying to make it appear" that the major political parties are financing election campaigns in the spirit of the law.

As a witness before a special Senate committee investigating lobbying and political activities, Butler said both parties utilize "ways and means of avoiding" the spirit of the law and what he called its "unrealistic" limits on campaign spending.

Instead of the present three-million-dollar ceiling permitted national political committees, Butler proposed greatly enlarged limits of up to 8 to 12 million dollars as most realistic.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act now sets a three-million-dollar ceiling on the amount any national campaign committee may spend. But it does not limit the number of committees which may function in behalf of a candidate.

"There is no use sitting here and trying to make it appear that any major committee is complying with the spirit of the law," Butler said.

He testified that both political parties have found it necessary to establish what he called "splinter

Longshoremen Back At Work

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Longshoremen from Maine to Texas went back to work today but no one could estimate how long it will take them to work their way through the ships and cargo which piled up during their nine-day strike.

More than 200 ships and thousands of tons of cargo were caught in East and Gulf Coast ports by the contract dispute between the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn.

A 10-day court injunction ended the walkout Saturday.

The waterfront commission said 17,500 dockworkers were at their jobs in New York today, compared with a normal Monday average of 15,000.

Movement of cargo in the port was reported near normal with acceleration expected tomorrow.

The government hopes that through court action resumption of the strike can be prevented for the entire 80-day "cooling off" period provided under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Both ILA President William V. Bradley and Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the shipping association, declared publicly they were "willing and ready" to resume talks.

Refugees Decrease As Border Tightened

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 26 (AP)—The numbers of Hungarian refugees decreased as Russian troops slowly tightened up the border with Austria today. But there were still many holes in the Iron Curtain.

Police at Eisenstadt, capital of Austria's Burgenland border province, said apparently fewer than 2,300 turned up during the day-time yesterday.

Russians Halt Western Trains Outside Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—Russia roused fears today for the West's free access to Soviet-surrounded Berlin. A British military train was turned back and an American one held up for two hours at a Soviet checkpoint.

The British train, en route from West Berlin to Hannover in West Germany last night, was stopped at Marienborn, on the border between East and West Germany. Soviet officers alleged documents held by the British passengers were not in order, and sent the train back to Berlin, 100 miles behind the line separating East Germany from the West.

At almost the same time, an American military train from Frankfurt to Berlin was held up for two hours at Marienborn, and one passenger was forced to get off and return to West Germany. U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg said the Russians were demanding "proper personal documentation" of all passengers.

Western spokesmen in Berlin and Bonn refused to speculate where the tiff might lead. On the surface, there appeared no reason why the Russians should suddenly introduce political complications—possibly to divert attention from the situation in Hungary.

A British announcement said their train was sent back due to a "misunderstanding" on documentation procedures.

Four Newsmen Are Indicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Four newspaper men, a librarian and a television program director were indicted for contempt of Congress today for refusing to answer questions before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

The federal grand jury ignored similar charges against Harvey Matusow, the turnabout former Communist convicted of perjury in New York last month.

Those indicted on charges which carry a maximum penalty of one year imprisonment and $1,000 fine were:

Alden Whitman and Robert Shelton, former copy readers of the New York Times; Seymour Peck, former desk man on the Times Sunday magazine; William A. Price, one-time New York Daily News reporter; Mrs. Mary Knowles, a librarian at Plymouth Meeting, Pa., and Herman Live-right, former program director at station WDSU-TV, New Orleans.

Unlike the six indicted, all of whom refused to talk on grounds of freedom of speech and the press in the First Amendment, Matusow took the Fifth Amendment which guards against possible self incrimination. Matusow was asked as to the truth of testimony given in 1953 before the Texas industrial commission investigating Communist infiltration.

5-Year-Old Boy Makes Game Of Being Blind

ATLANTA, Nov. 26 (AP)—A brave little Atlanta boy who accepted total blindness with a murmured "okay" is learning to enjoy life without his eyes.

In fact 5-year-old Johnny Pair is doing his best to lead a normal life. He makes a game out of not being able to see. He laughs when things don't work out as expected. If he falls, he picks himself up and grins and tries again.

Johnny's cancerous right eye was removed Oct. 8, two years after his left eye was taken out in an effort to halt the spread of the malignancy. Doctors said the second operation was necessary to save his life.

His divorced parents debated for days over the operation and then agreed it was the only thing to do. Afterwards they hesitated to tell him he was totally blind. Finally the doctor said it was time Johnny knew.

"The eye was sick and I had to take it out to keep you alive," the doctor explained. "When I take this bandage off, don't open your eye because you won't be able to see, Johnny. You won't ever be able to see again, but you'll be all right."

"Okay," said Johnny. He didn't try to open the eye and he didn't ask any questions. Now doctors think he'll be all right.

Johnny feeds himself and his mother, Mrs. Bessie Pair, says he usually "doesn't spill a thing." He makes his way around his mother's apartment and gets along pretty well at kindergarten in the mornings and at a nursery he attends in the afternoons.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Mobilization chief Arthur S. Flemming assured the House Foreign Affairs Committee today no rationing of gasoline or fuel oil in the United States was contemplated despite the Middle East crisis.

Eleven officials, including Herbert Hoover Jr., acting secretary of state, spent three hours with some 17 members of the committee.

Ike Reportedly Names Bunker Envoy To India

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported today to have chosen Ellsworth Bunker to be ambassador to India.

This sets the stage for important talks Eisenhower will have with Prime Minister Nehru of India, who will come here Dec. 16 for a four-day series of conferences.

Officials said Eisenhower would announce the appointment before Nehru reaches Washington.

Bunker, a Democrat, is the retiring president of the American Red Cross.

Would Replace Cooper

The only other Democrat to be named to a high diplomatic post in this administration was David Bruce, whom Eisenhower selected in 1953 to be U. S. observer at the Paris meeting of the Interim Committee of the European Defense Community.

The State Department is understood to have asked the Indian government in New Delhi to approve the appointment of 62-year-old Bunker. He would replace John Sherman Cooper who left New Delhi last May and who since has been elected Republican senator from Kentucky.

Cooper To Fly To India

To help lay the groundwork for the Eisenhower-Nehru talks, Cooper will leave Wednesday by plane, as a special presidential representative, to talk with the Indian leader in New Delhi. Bunker, who is now serving as a member of the American delegation to the United Nations Assembly, served as ambassador to Italy and Argentina under the Truman administration.

Bunker's proposed appointment, informants said, stirred up some grumbling among Senate Republicans who felt the post should have gone to a Republican.

Eisenhower Welcomes Dozen Refugees To U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower personally welcomed 12 Hungarian refugees to the United States today and denounced as "the ultimate tyranny" the exiling of thousands of Hungarians at bayonet point.

It was clearly a heart warming experience for the 12 as they met in the White House with the President.

"This thing cannot be happening in Hungary," Mrs. Eva Krausz, one of the group, told reporters afterwards.

On Capitol Hill, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas said Russia's "brutal repression" of Hungarian rebels has boomeranged into "one of the most important setbacks the Communists have suffered in recent years."

For '57 Styled long and low -with lots of GO!

(Try the instant response of Buick's New Dynaflo*)

We'll admit it quite frankly. "New" is a word that's used a lot. But seldom has it meant so much that's fresh and different and better-than-before—as here in the newest Buick yet.

Take the new styling, because that's so obvious even at a glance. To get it so sweepingly low, the engineers started right from the bottom, with a brand-new type of chassis construction.

It's an ingenious "nested" chassis that reduced car height as much as 3.4 inches, giving new lowness and raciness to the styling—without reducing road clearance below or room inside.

It's a massive I-beam, X-frame chassis that's stronger and sturdier—and permits a new low center of gravity that gives this Buick faster, far safer roadability.

That's the picture on style and beauty and rugged brawn in every '57 Buick.

But no such picture can give you the feel of this automobile's new instant go.

Only when you take the wheel can you appreciate the new era of motoring pleasure and ease and safety brought about by Buick's new power-pitch response.

It's instant response—response set off by the hair-trigger action of a new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine and the full-range flexibility of a new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

It's response so eager, this Buick seems to anticipate your every command. Power flashes to the rear wheels so quickly and smoothly in "Drive," that the need for "Low" has virtually been eliminated. Even Dynaflo's famous switch of the pitch is seldom needed.

Come try it. Come see and feel the tremendous difference the newest Buick yet can make in your driving enjoyment.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

'Drag Strips' Condemned

A copy of a resolution adopted by the International Association of Chiefs of Police which condemns "drag strips" is being sent to local youths who have asked the help of the Mayor and Council and Airport Commission in creating a strip here.

Mr. Finan added that the young people here are sincere in their efforts but have not had knowledge of the condemnation of drag strips.

The police chiefs organization called on all law enforcement agencies to refrain from participating in the establishment or operation of drag strips or similar activity, and urged law enforcement agencies' cooperation in high school driver training to better the public interest.

Chief Flynn said he submitted the resolution in hopes it would guide the Mayor and Council before final action is taken on a drag strip here.

Youths interested in the proposal have asked for use of Municipal Airport once a week.

City Finances Hospital Plan For Workers

The Mayor and Council yesterday adopted a plan to pay hospital and medical insurance costs of its fulltime permanent employees.

However, it was pointed out if the employee wants to extend coverage to his family, he must pay the difference between his single rate and the family rate.

Under the order approved for the seven months beginning December 1, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson was authorized to pay to Maryland Hospital Service, Inc., an amount not to exceed $2.10 for each employee now covered by hospital insurance, and $3.10 for each covered by hospital and medical insurance.

After the December 1 effective date as new employees are enrolled they, too, will come under the plan except that no employee shall be entitled to the benefits under the order until he has been in continuous service of the city for one year and be a fulltime permanent employee.

Cost of the insurance plan is being charged against respective department appropriations in which the employee works. Where a department has no appropriation, cost is charged to the contingent fund.

Gibson said there are 212 employees who are covered by insurance. The city has 263 regular and probationary employees and 16 others listed as parttime and seasonal employees.

The vote on the plan was 4-0. Mayor Roy W. Eves was absent because he is attending the American Municipal convention in St. Louis, Water Commissioner William J. Edwards was acting mayor.

A paid medical and hospitalization plan is one of three proposals made by Local 812 Municipal Employees Union, in recent talks with council. The union also asked for a 25-cent wage increase, and that the city pay the difference between workman's compensation for injury and his regular pay for a period of a year.

Kettle Drives Are Scheduled By Service Organizations Here

Local service organizations will kettle campaign were selected. Mr. Wendt said, because of the congestion on Baltimore Street during the height of the Christmas season.

Members of the Rotary Club, Exchange Club and Junior Association of Commerce will man the kettles Saturday, December 15, while Lions, Kiwanis and Civitan Club members will be in charge the following Saturday, December 22.

The board's nominating committee turned over 11 names to Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel, for consideration as members of the advisory board, Mr. Wendt said.

Eight of the 11 persons will be selected by Capt. Biggs, who will announce the names at a board meeting Friday, December 7, at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Rev. Stroup will preach an introductory to the Revelation at the evening services next Sunday, and on following Sunday evenings will present a chapter by chapter exposition until he has completed the book.

Sermon subjects will include "God's Message to Churches," "Seven Years of Tribulation," "The Anti-Christ," "The False Prophet," "Battle of Armageddon," "Marriage Supper of the Lamb," "The Second Coming of Christ," "The Doom of Satan," "The Great White Throne Judgment" and "Heaven."

The services will begin each Sunday at 7:30 p. m., Rev. Stroup said.

Driver Held In Death Of College Man

The driver of the automobile which overturned last Monday night and fatally injured a West Virginia Wesleyan College freshman near Buckhannon has been charged with negligent homicide.

West Virginia State Police have filed the charges against Geoffrey Daly, of New York City, who was driving a car owned by Richard Mussard of Oakland.

Fatally injured in the mishap was Jarle Sevann, 18, Brooklyn, also a student at the college.

Mussard and Dayton L. O'Dell were injured in the accident and admitted to a Clarksburg hospital.

Mussard was later released and returned to his home in Oakland with his family.

Trooper D. F. Mease of the West Virginia State Police, who investigated, said the youths were traveling north on Route 20 in a car, owned by Mussard, when the accident occurred. Police said the vehicle was struck an embankment and overturned on the highway. The trooper said the car skidded more than 40 yards before coming to a stop. Daly was not lodged in jail, but has been notified of the charges, to swerve the car to avoid a head-on crash, police said. Trooper Mease added that when Daly swerved he lost control.

Cup Of Coffee Is Rather Costly

It appears a cup of coffee may cost Wallace H. McGill, of RD 1, several hundred dollars.

Trooper Charles DeWitt of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said McGill was involved in an accident yesterday at the Six Mile House and Miss Emily Hyde, 30, of Barton.

Trooper DeWitt gave this account of the mishap:

McGill, a local builder, had stopped in the Hy-Burger for a cup of coffee. After leaving the restaurant, he remembered he had forgotten to pay for the coffee.

McGill stopped his truck as he was crossing U.S. Route 40 toward Winchester Road and backed across the highway to pay for his coffee.

As McGill reached the east-bound lane of traffic it was rammed by the car driven by Miss Hyde.

Trooper DeWitt estimated damage at $300 to $400 on each vehicle. No charges have been preferred pending investigation.

Local, Area Teams Feted By Schools

Football victory celebrations were conducted at both Fort Hill High School and in Keyser yesterday at special assemblies of the two schools.

Fort Hill had an hour program honoring the team's gridders who shut out Allegany, 20-0, on Thanksgiving Day to retain the city championship and also tying with Hagerstown for the Cumberland Valley Athletic League title.

Things are still hopping in Keyser since the Golden Tornado came back with the state Class A football championship early Friday morning. Keyser whipped Mullens, 12-0, in Beckley on Thanksgiving Day, winning its first state grid crown.

Students were dismissed this morning following a victory assembly when the school was officially presented a large trophy which symbolizes state Class A supremacy.

Police Department Commended Here

B&O Federation No. 7 has commended the Police Department for its action to relieve traffic congestion at the corner of Laing Avenue and Virginia Avenue.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan released the union's letter yesterday in which it said the placing of a patrolman at the intersection from 2:45 to 3:30 p.m. has proved "very satisfactory."

Another letter from the Jaycees received by Keegan included a check for $25 to be applied toward work of the Police Boys Club. The group pointed out the boys' work is a worthwhile undertaking and it had adopted the club as its Thanksgiving project.

During the regular council session yesterday, a letter from Lloyd Buchanan was read. In it he praised the efforts of Sgt. J. W. Brown and police for their handling of a recent Buchanan Lumber Company burglary investigation and a more recent case where the company's warehouse was found open.

Amcelle To Aid Seal Drive

The Amcelle Employees Charity Fund has volunteered to assist the local Christmas Seal drive this year.

Members of the Charity Fund committee have met with representatives of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association to work out plans whereby the seals, mailed to fund contributors would be paid for by the Amcelle unit.

After meeting with Miss Jean Reinhard, George Davis and Senator Charles See of the Tuberculosis Association, Harry Carns, Amcelle Fund chairman, issued the following statement:

"Agreement has been reached on our method of allocating contributions, including our proposal that the Amcelle Fund contribution would cover the payment normally made by you for Christmas Seals. It will, therefore, not be necessary for you to send a payment for your seals if you are a contributor to the Amcelle employees. In addition to Carns, the committee is composed of Pudson Nix, J. K. Morgan, Mrs. Cora L. McCoy, Mrs. Helen Sammers, A. D. Kuehn, Vito J. Dormio, William Farrady, Walter Mahaney and George McLuckie.

Surpasses its Own Great Reputation!

You're looking at a mighty surprised man.

Almost all of his adult life he has owned Cadillac cars. And so, when he came in to see and drive the new 1957 Cadillac, he thought he knew about what to expect.

Well, here he is—barely under way in the city's traffic—and already he is learning the startling truth.

He is learning that nothing could prepare a man for the new "car of cars"—not even Cadillac ownership itself!

He suspected it, in fact, the instant he caught his first glimpse of this newest Cadillac creation. This was an entirely new kind of Cadillac beauty—brilliantly fresh in line and in contour.

And then he opened the door and swung into the driver's seat. On every side were new miracles of interior beauty and comfort and convenience.

And when he turned the key and put his foot on the accelerator, his sentiment grew to conviction. The car was incredibly nimble and quiet and smooth of ride.

Surprised, did we say? Well, just wait until he hits an open stretch of highway.

That great new engine is incredibly responsive. There is marvelous new balance and ease of motion. And the car is so easy to handle that it seems almost to know the road.

No question about it—this is the Cadillac that surpasses its own great reputation!

We suggest that you come in soon to see and drive this most surprising new Cadillac in fifty-four years. It's an experience you shouldn't postpone—and one you'll not soon forget.

Awards exceeding $23,000 were handed down Friday in Hagerstown in a damage suit filed here about a year ago and removed to Washington County Circuit Court.
The jury verdict awarded $18,500 to Mrs. Elva Pease, of Montgomery City, Mo., and $5,373 to her husband, Elmer Pease, as a result of a head-on collision west of Grantsville on Route 40 on July 7, 1954.
Both their car and the other vehicle, driven by Joe S. Ivery, Baltimore, who was in the armed forces when the crash occurred, were described as total wrecks.
Most seriously injured was Mrs. Pease, who was taken to a Meyersdale Hospital and about 20 days later moved to Washington, where she underwent several more months of hospitalization.

Are you getting a lift from your income?
Chances are your income isn't carrying you as far as you want it to, no matter how hard you work.
Why not try to get more lift out of your income by making some of it go to work for you? What's more satisfying than getting extra income that your income earns?
If this idea appeals to you, consider these steps right now:

First step. Dwell happily upon the thought that millions of people make their incomes produce more income by investing in stocks and bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Not all of them get big paychecks either. Two out of three have incomes under $7500 a year.

Second step. Before you invest make sure you've provided for family emergencies. Then get the facts about the company. Remember stock prices fluctuate and some companies may not pay dividends. But last year nine out of ten stocks on the New York Stock Exchange did pay dividends.

Third step. Bear in mind that when you buy common stock you become part-owner of the company. If it grows and prospers you may share in its prosperity in two ways: through dividends paid on your stock and through increase in the value of your investment. On the other hand, when you buy bonds the company owes you money and it promises to pay interest, usually at a fixed rate.

Fourth step. Make up your mind that if other people can put their incomes to work, you can too. You don't have to be an investment expert. But you do need the service of a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Their job is to help people buy and sell securities wisely. (The Exchange doesn't buy or sell nor set prices—it is the nation's market place where the stocks and bonds of more than 1,100 of America's companies are bought and sold by Member Firms carrying out the orders of people like you.)

Fifth step. Read our fascinating—and free—little booklet "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS" which gives the records of over 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid dividends every year from 25 to 108 years...showing which yield 5 to 6 per cent at recent prices...which have paid progressively higher dividends over the last ten years...which are most favored by financial institutions...and much more, including information about the pay-as-you-go Monthly Investment Plan enabling you to invest as little as $40 every three months.

Drop in at any nearby Member Firm for the booklet. They'll welcome your visit. Or send the coupon. Isn't it time to consider getting an extra lift from your income?

Wanna Buy A Highway? Oregonians Will Sell
ROSEBURG, Ore., Nov. 26 (AP)—The Stumbo boys from Wolf Creek, Ore., are selling off their 16 1/2-foot stretch of U.S. Highway 99 in chunks two inches square. Six have been sold so far.
Anyone but the State of Oregon, which happens to be using the property now as its thoroughfare to California, can buy a "lot" two by two inches for only $2.
The buyer may then register his deed with the county clerk for another $1.50.
The legal description of the property says each lot contains .000000638 acres "more or less."
The Stumbos—brothers Robert, Allan and Harry, and cousin Clair—drew a rope barricade temporarily across the highway one busy day last September.
They illustrated their claim to the land to the amusement of motorists—and the irritation of some—with signs notifying them it was private property. The contested strip lies between Roseburg and Grants Pass in southern Oregon.
The highway commission searched its files, and to its continuing embarrassment found it had not bought the land.
The Stumbo boys and the commission have had some talks. Nothing has come of them yet and the Stumbos said today the land is being offered for sale. They want it to "remain in the hands of the American people where it belongs."
The state's only comment was it hopes "the matter can be settled amicably without going to court."
While only 16 1/2 feet of highway proper is involved, the right of way claimed by the Stumbos is 150 feet wide. A bit of division and multiplications shows a potential of $178,200 in income if the Stumbos sell the entire piece in two inch square chunks.

"950,000 Maryland citizens... 40 member hospitals... and ME... that's who belongs to BLUE CROSS!"

Remember, sickness and accidents give no warning. Plan now to join hospital-sponsored BLUE CROSS.

There must be a reason why so many thousands of Maryland citizens already have Blue Cross. In 1955, for example, Blue Cross added 62,000 subscribers—over 170 people every day. One fact that made up their minds was this:
"Blue Cross, the non-profit plan to pre-pay hospital expenses, offers broad, realistic protection at such a small monthly rate."
It's true: Blue Cross protection is difficult to match. Not only does it protect you, as a subscriber, from the worry of unexpected hospital bills, but it protects your family as well, on a family membership, and keeps you protected after age 65, even though you move, change jobs, or retire.
Key to Blue Cross: "Service Benefits"
The heart of Blue Cross is hospital care. Blue Cross's way of providing for the hospital care you may need is "service benefits." These are, to put it simply, agreements between Blue Cross and the member hospital to provide the hospital care you need. All of the hospital's regular services are included in this agreement.
The emphasis, you see, is on care—not cash. Blue Cross does not give you dollars to help pay your hospital bills. Instead Blue Cross, through its "service benefits" pays the hospital directly for the services covered in your membership. You don't have to file a claim, or wait for reimbursement. Dollar payments are often not enough to cover hospital bills. Blue Cross records show that Blue Cross "service benefits" do often cover a subscriber's hospital expenses in full.

Find out now about Blue Cross
If there is a Blue Cross group where you work ask your employer how you may join it. If there is no Blue Cross group where you work, and there are five or more people employed there, ask your employer about getting Blue Cross protection for you. You may get information about Blue Cross by calling the Blue Cross office listed in your telephone directory, or by writing for a free booklet to: BLUE CROSS, Dept 1007, 200 West Baltimore St., Baltimore 1, Maryland.

The physician, Dr. Mildred Sheesley of Fishersville, Va., is expected to arrive here today. She has been offered free use of the facilities at the office of Dr. Paul R. Wilson on Ashfield Street, Piedmont.

Put enough rest in your rest, or you can't be a serene and charming person.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers The Rest Is Up To You

A few famous beauties have said that sleeping twelve or more hours out of every twenty-four explained their amazing youthfulness. This probably would not work for every woman, even if she had time for it. But it's certainly true that continued fatigue is aging and beauty-robbing, to say nothing of being damaging to the disposition.

A woman who hopes to be attractive whatever her years must maintain a generous rest schedule. She must sleep the hours she needs every night and plan her day to include enough rest periods to keep her refreshed. Discipline is required of a busy person to manage her time so she can, and then there's another kind of discipline, too, that must be established so that rest can do the most possible good. This kind of discipline is concerned with attitude toward the tasks that fill a busy day. You may put yourself to bed regularly to stay there the right number of hours and still sleep too little. You may take enough time out regularly from your work and still benefit far less than you should. This is because you must truthfully answer yes to too many of these questions:

Liquor Warning For Marylanders

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Roger V. Laynor, chief of the Alcoholic Beverages Division of the State Comptroller's office, today issued a holiday warning to Marylanders. Mr. Laynor warned that it is illegal for anyone to import alcoholic beverages into the State without a wholesaler's or retailer's license. Only persons exempted from this law are residents of the State returning to their homes, Mr. Laynor said. He warned, however, that only one casual importation of this type is allowed a month. Mr. Laynor said that unlawful transportation or possession of liquor carries maximum penalties of a $1,000 fine and imprisonment for two years.

Election Poll Hobbyist Dies

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP)—David J. Laupheimer, a street corner election poll hobbyist and founder of the first school for page boys of Congress, died today at the age of 71 in Montebello State Hospital. Laupheimer conducted his election polls for more than 20 years and claimed he never made a wrong prediction. Candidates held a healthy respect for his findings and often consulted him. He was an old friend of Gov. McKeldin.

Laupheimer attended the University of Pennsylvania and for 20 years taught school, mostly at Brown Prep in Philadelphia. While teaching in the school for pages in Washington, he became a personal friend of the late President Coolidge. He said he left Washington when the Democrats came into power because he "didn't want a political fight interrupting the school." Laupheimer was a Republican, but never ran for any office. He helped many immigrants prepare for naturalization tests and organized a "high school equivalents" course for men who didn't graduate and needed diplomas for better jobs.

Second Contempt Charge Filed Against Dr. Reddick

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP)—A second charge of contempt of court was filed today against Dr. Robert H. Reddick in the latest of a series of actions against him for issuance of medical licenses. Dr. Reddick has been fired as psychiatrist at the Eastern Shore Hospital because of the court actions against him. The source of the complaints was Dr. Reddick's activities with the Homeopathic Medical Society. The board representing the Society discharged him. The attorney general charged he continued to give examinations and issue licenses. Circuit Judge Joseph R. Byrnes issued a temporary injunction against him June 26. The attorney general filed a complaint that Dr. Reddick had violated it and issued a license. Judge Byrnes made the injunction permanent on Aug. 20. The attorney general's petition today said two attempts since have been made to record licenses signed by Dr. Reddick. One issued to Samuel Mathew Weene was dated June 28 and was offered for recording in Frederick County. On the same date, it was recorded with the Circuit Court clerk in Washington County, according to the attorney general. He also claims a license issued to Glenn Heynig and signed by Dr. Reddick with the June 28 date was offered in the Circuit Court of Baltimore. The attorney general's office asked that the two contempt of court petitions be heard simultaneously. Dr. Reddick has asked the Court of Appeals to review the injunction by Judge Byrnes. The Legislative Council has recommended as a result of the Dr. Reddick case that medical licensing in the state be consolidated in one board. A board of the Homeopathic Society and another of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty now examines and issues licenses to doctors. Homeopathy, a vanishing method of treating disease, advocates minute doses of drugs which would produce in a healthy person symptoms similar to the disease. It is opposed to allopathy, the more general system of treating disease with agents producing effects different to the disease. The first warship of the British navy was the Great Harry, built in 1509.

Sodaro, Allen Named Judges

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Anselm Sodaro, a Democrat and state's attorney for Baltimore City, and Joseph Allen, Republican chairman of the State Tax Commission, were appointed today to vacancies on the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City. Sodaro was named to take the seat of Herman M. Moser and Allen to replace Deedley K. Nice by Gov. McKeldin. Moser and Nice both died recently. Sodaro and Allen will have to stand for election to full 15 terms in 1958. "Each has a record of outstanding public service, the nature of which adds to his qualifications for judicial office," Gov. McKeldin said in a statement accompanying the appointments. Sodaro was elected state's attorney in 1951 and reelected in 1953. Allen is a former People's Counsel before the Public Service Commission.

A Tribute To Fort Hill's Alumni Band Parents Boosters

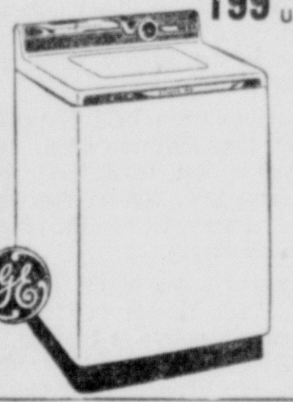

These organized groups of Fort Hill High School show interest, originality, industry, pride and loyalty which provide inspirational examples of community leadership and service to boy and girl participants in school activities. The annual "All Letter" banquet, the Band Parents' purchasing of instruments and uniforms for the musical organizations, and the Booster Club's "Athletic" dinner are examples of the varied projects that encourage students to develop qualities of unselfish citizenship which carry over into their adult lives. It is highly fitting that this public expression of gratitude be accorded these friends and workers for their unselfish contributions to the broader educational growth of Cumberland's young citizens.

Yellow Clothing Safer For Hunters

It was one of those things which is never questioned. Everyone regarded it as a fact that the color red is best for hunters to wear in the woods so they will not be shot at by other hunters.

But the color red is not the best. It doesn't come close to the best color for such protection, which is yellow. Yellow, at any rate, came out far ahead in some long and deliberate testing in California.

How could it be explained that nearly one-third of the 103 hunters shot by others in that state, last year, were wearing red clothing? The question was asked and pursued by the California Optometric Association, the National Rifle Association, the Department of Fish and Game, and the U. S. Army at Fort Ord.

Red placed so far down the list as to be clear out of the "safe" zone of colors. Plain bright yellow, fluorescent yellow and white got practically perfect scores even as tested on color-blind persons—who have a hard time seeing red anyhow and comprise eight per cent of the population.

How far back in history has the color red been used to warn of danger? Certainly red would not have been picked had it been regarded as not one of the easiest to see. Red was teamed with green for the running lights of vessels long before those colors were adopted for railroad and highway signaling. And to the very young, at least, red looks prettiest of all. Pretty, in fact, as a new red wagon.

Yet it wasn't red but yellow that was chosen for quarantine flags, for rubber life rafts for airmen, for school buses, for "caution" signals galore. Yellow is the color of fog lights. So perhaps it's a fact that hunters as well as others got sidetracked by mistake on red for high visibility.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky Red China

The United Nations has wisely postponed the consideration of Red China. This is surely not the year for a general debate on this subject, the world being sufficiently disturbed by the Egyptian and Hungarian demarches of Soviet Russia. The leadership of the plea for the discussion of admitting Red China was India's representative at the United Nations, Krishna Menon, who has so often acted as a front for Soviet Russia.

Dr. Stanley Hornbeck, who before Roosevelt, was regarded as America's leading authority on China, has described Red China in the following terms:

"... Since gaining control over most of mainland China, it has done its utmost to destroy all thought of individual freedom and to impose upon the 500,000,000 people of China a regime modeled upon that of the Soviet Union. . . . it has made China a focal point for the propagation of Communist ideology and activity among the peoples of Eastern Asia. It has openly declared itself indebted to the Soviet Union for its very existence.

"It has entered into formal alliance with that country and draws upon it for sponsorship and guidance. It employs tens of thousands of Soviet nationals, civilian and military, as 'advisers' and technicians. It maintains a very large and ever-growing military establishment which depends on the Soviet Union for most of its equipment, much of its training and some of its operations. It abuses its own nationals and the nationals of other countries. It villifies the United States and seeks to inflame its own and other peoples against the free world."

It would seem logical, if this indictment is correct, as I am sure it is, that no nations in the West can vote to admit Red China into the United Nations, particularly as that country, to use Hornbeck's language "... has become an aggressor, and the United Nations has formally declared it to be such. It was an aggressor directly in Korea, where it defied and made war upon the United Nations, and indirectly in Indo-China, where it supported the Viet-Minh by supplying munitions to armed forces seeking to bring the Associated States under Communist domination. . . ."

Unfortunately countries, like individuals, do not always function on the basis of principle but become involved in their own little interests, their prejudices and bigotries and reach conclusions by the emotional rather than the rational route. The result is that they sometimes find themselves performing petty jobs for their potential enemies. Great Britain must discover the error it made by the overspeedy recognition of Red China, just as Nehru must be wondering what will happen to India if the Kremlin takes over Egypt.

The United States thus far has not been beguiled into recognizing Red China, although it was expected that the State Department was ready this year to come up with the "Two Chinas" plan which would admit Red China to the United Nations while permitting Nationalist China to continue to hold its seat. This is a silly proposal, acceptable neither to Red China nor Nationalist China and would be rejected by both as unrealistic. However, the plan has had its advocates, particularly among those who believe that the best way to solve any problem is to follow Solomon's plan of cutting the baby in half.

However, the Egyptian and Hungarian situations, which caught our government unaware, has soured American officialdom on Soviet Russia sufficiently so that any such proposals are not for the present. In a word, if a situation is left to the Russians, they will fowl it up to the satisfaction of their enemies.

Nevertheless there are plenty of Americans who are growing very tired over our differences with Soviet Russia and who feel that it might make the world more peaceful if we gave in to the Russians. They believe that we ought to recognize Red China to please the Kremlin and Nehru. What this comes down to is peace at any price and such a peace can only produce in the Russians an increasingly strong motive for greater demands upon us. Appeasement of evil, no matter why done, no matter for whatever end result, can only strengthen the Soviet world and weaken the West.

When the West stands up to the bullying Bear, Soviet Russia backs away because the Kremlin wants no war. Our bargaining power is enormous, if this country would only use it.

Western Alliance Faces Worse Strains Ahead

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The central point that has virtually escaped notice in the present crisis is that the severe strains already felt by the Western alliance are downright trifling, are really nothing, compared to the strains that lie ahead.

The Egyptian solution sponsored by the American policy-makers and the United Nations is quite certain to produce a long chain of consequences elsewhere in the Middle East. These local consequences, in turn, will surely produce further appalling strains that may well imperil the very existence of the grand alliance that has so long guarded freedom in the world. The process has begun already, and in a most instructive manner, in the little country of Transjordan.

After dismissing Glubb Pasha from command of his Arab Legion, young King Hussein of Transjordan adopted the policy of maintaining an uneasy balance between Egypt and Britain. This Jordanian balance was not immediately upset, when Egypt was attacked.

Although previously pledged to come to Egypt's aid, Transjordan made no move while Nasser's Sinai army was being humiliated by the Israelis, while the British and French were landing in Egypt, while Nasser, in fact, was being pushed to the wall. But then American diplomacy and Soviet threats combined to transform Nasser's great military defeat into a great political victory.

The effect in Transjordan was instantaneous and electrical. The pro-Egyptians in the Parliament have now rammed through a resolution calling on the government to denounce the treaty with Britain, which has protected their country since Transjordan became a sovereign state. The resolution has not yet been put into effect by Suleiman Nabulsi, the Jordanian premier. But it is only a matter of time before Transjordan breaks its historic link with Britain, and in effect becomes an Egyptian dependency.

This illustrates the kind of development that must now be expected all over the Middle East. Syria is in the Egyptian bag already. In Iraq, the days of pro-Western Nuri Pasha are almost certainly numbered. After Transjordan goes into the bag, Iraq will eventually follow. Then the heat will be put on in the vital oil

Election Eve War Scare May Prove Important Historical Landmark

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — This column has already reported on the emergency White House meetings the night before elections when high Administration officials feared Russia was going to precipitate world war III. On that night, November 5, Herbert Hoover, Jr., the acting Secretary of State, "is so worried that Dwight D. Eisenhower running as the peace President might become a war President that all U.S. atomic vessels were ordered to sea, the strategic air command was alerted, and various other military precautions were taken.

Allen Dulles, head of Central Intelligence, had just flown into New York from Europe and was about to sit down for a drink at the Piping Rock Club on Long Island when his old partner Arthur Dean when summoned to Washington. He calmed White House nerves, argued that a Soviet attack was highly unlikely.

On that night the President sent emphatic notes to Prime Ministers Eden and Mollet demanding a cease-fire in Egypt. Since then the Administration, still jittery over possible Russian "volunteer" attacks on Suez, has persuaded, pressured, badgered the British and French to get out.

Likewise UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at first leaned toward Russian appeasement in the UN debates on Hungary, while Voice of America employees were instructed they could not donate personally to Hungarian freedom fighters.

Teen-Agers Revolt

President Eisenhower himself has described this region as the most strategically vital on the face of the earth. This is true for many reasons. But take only one of these reasons—the effect on the second power of the Western alliance, Britain, of the prospective loss of control of her Middle Eastern oil supplies.

As a sort of hole card, the British now mean to hold the vast oil riches of Kuwait and the other Gulf Coast sheikdoms by naked military force if need be. But are we prepared to support the British in this new "aggression," which will raise a worse storm than the attack on Suez? Or shall we press our British partners to look pleasant while their throats are cut?

Then too, if all Britain's Middle Eastern oil sources are lost, it will cost Britain just about $1 billion a year. The shaky British balance of payments cannot conceivably stand this further strain. If the oil goes, Britain will go bankrupt. After declaring bankruptcy, Britain will have to abandon her NATO and other strategic commitments, and will go out of business as a serious world power. But how is American policy going to be adjusted to cover the loss of Western strength caused by British bankruptcy?

In these circumstances, the American policy-makers are now content to talk vaguely about "the U. S. moving into the Middle East to fill the vacuum" left by our less fortunate allies. But do our policy-makers really think, for instance, that the U.S. can take over Britain's Middle Eastern oil resources, pension off the British people, and still keep Britain as a loyal ally?

Surely the country deserves more realistic answers to the whole grim array of questions of which these are a small sample.

Horses, Birds Villains In Encephalitis Epidemics

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The tsetse fly causes sleeping sickness in Africa. In this country horses and birds spread a comparable disease—encephalitis (brain fever). The most recent outbreaks of this malady occurred in New England and Kentucky. In Massachusetts, the condition followed in the wake of their 1955 poliomyelitis epidemic.

The source of encephalitis was not known but there were fatal cases in horses within a few miles of a human case, suggesting a casual relationship. Furthermore, the responsible virus was prevalent and highly fatal among horses in neighboring communities.

A similar epidemic struck New England during the summer of 1933. There were 40 cases, with a mortality rate of 65 per cent. Most victims were young children.

An epidemic in Kentucky at the time of this writing, according to Scope Weekly, has reached a total of 95 suspected cases, with nine deaths. This variety of the infection is caused by a cousin of the eastern equine virus. It is known as St. Louis encephalitis because the same virus struck the Mississippi valley in the summer of 1933. At that time there were more than 1,000 cases. The causative virus has been isolated not only from horses but from poultry, pigeons, pheasants, and a number of wild birds and animals. The microorganisms are transmitted through direct contact or from mosquitoes that act as the intermediate host.

The disease usually begins suddenly and early symptoms resemble the flu. The temperature rises rapidly to 106 degrees F. and the patient complains of headache, especially behind the eyes, vomiting, nausea, and dizziness. The neck becomes stiff and talking is difficult.

Drowsiness, confusion, and a coma may ensue and the patient can be roused only long enough to eat and attend to personal necessities. He dozes off again as soon as the stimulation is gone. One youngster remained in a drowsy state of coma for six months. Some become paralyzed and others do not. Now and then there is insomnia instead of drowsiness. The sufferer lies awake for weeks instead of sleeping.

No specific remedy is available and it is obvious that the patient needs good nursing care during the more helpless stage of the illness. When an epidemic is raging, every attempt must be made to eliminate all mosquitoes. Windows should be screened and children ought not be allowed to wander out of doors after dark.

TOMORROW: Breathless on exertion.

BACK PAIN W. S. writes: Why do I have

Russia's Achilles' Heel

It is now possible to take a good look at Soviet threats and see whether Administration panic has been justified.

It should be remembered that the Kremlin organized part of the Red Army from the Hungarians, Poles, Czechs, Rumanians and Bulgarians. Other members of the Red Army are not only from Russia proper but from Armenia, the Ukraine, the Caucasus, White Russia, Turkestan, and areas not always sympathetic with having their nationalism merged under the Soviet Union. The Hungarian freedom fight brought all this latent nationalism to the surface, has made the Red Army one of the least reliable forces politically in the world. Here is what happened: The Hungarian Red Army went over to the freedom forces almost en masse. The officers had been Communist Party members only on paper. In the showdown they chose to line up with the Hungarian people.

As a result, four divisions of the Red Army in near-by Rumania, riots started there. The troops had to be rushed back.

Meanwhile, Russian troops inside Hungary have been apologizing to the Hungarians for having had to carry out orders against them. Some Russians have deserted. In the mountain chain north of Hungary and in the Bakony Forest in West Hungary Russian officers and men have joined Hungarian guerrillas.

At the former Nazi concentration camp of Germany near Satorajaukely on the Czechoslovak border, Soviet troops, demobilized because of their unreliability, are awaiting transportation to Siberian slave-labor camps. Other camps have been hastily fenced in with barbed wire, and renegade Russian soldiers are now guarded by MVD secret police and bloodhounds.

Some of the Red Army used in Hungary came from the Ukraine. Word of what happened trickling back to the Ukraine has caused trouble there.

The Communists had trained Hungarian boys and girls how to fight tanks with Molotov cocktails. When Russian tanks entered Budapest, this knowledge was turned against the Russian teachers. These are some of the youngsters now being deported in long, sealed trains of boxcars. Despite their Soviet training, these youth organizations turned out to be the strongest freedom fighters.

The Hungarians actually received most of their tanks and guns from the Soviet Army. During the early stages of the fighting in Budapest, Seven Russian Colonels, among them three commanders of tank units, as well as hundreds of other lesser officers went over to the freedom fighters.

Had they seen the slightest chance of help from the West, a good part of the Soviet Army would have deserted their Kremlin masters. For not only are the Bulgarian, Czechoslovak, East German, Polish, Rumanian components of the Red Army now held unreliable, but some of the fiercest enemies of the Kremlin are reported inside the Russian Army itself.

That is why the MVD secret police components of the Red Army are more alert than ever—namely, to keep the regular army under control.

This basic weakness of the Russian military is not new. It was graphically revealed when U.S. Army officers interrogated Russian prisoners after the war and found that the amazing total of 2,600,000 had surrendered to Hitler, most of them hoping to overthrow the regime in Moscow.

This, not the might of the German Army, was the real reason for the lightning Nazi advance over Russia. In five months Germany conquered 40 per cent of the Russian population, all because of mass Russian surrenders.

Prisoner interrogation reports buried in U.S. Army files show case after case of Russian officers who surrendered to the Germans hoping for a change of government in Moscow. Greatest mistake Hitler made was to treat these prisoners with such cruelty that eventually word leaked back to the Red Army and surrenders stopped.

There seems definite evidence that the same Red Army resentment against their Communist masters in the Kremlin exists today.

That is why some advisers in the Eisenhower Administration disagree with the panic policies of the State Department. It is also why a great potential turning-point in history may have been lost.

AMONG THE MARRIED

Next to money and mothers-in-law, dancing is the cause of more quarrels among the married than anything else. Many years ago Joe Cawthorn introduced a ditty that became very popular titled "I Can Dance with Anybody But My Wife." Not one in a hundred married couples dance well together. The husband is generally blamed. This is frequently an unjust accusation. All females consider themselves natural born ballroom dancers. That is an erroneous assumption. There are as many bad female dancers as males. The great fault among women dancers is that they try to lead. This throws the husband off his stride. He is accused of being awkward. Then the argument starts. So, what otherwise might have been a wonderful evening is ruined.

THAT COLD

The common cold is still very common. It is still classed as incurable. It causes the loss of more work hours than any other factor. Strikes not excepted. If the common cold cannot be cured it can be prevented. I once went for a period of seven years without a common cold. Diet was an important preventive. Haven't space to detail the diet but will say fried food was avoided. I kept out of crowds as much as possible. In the winter I kept the bedroom windows closed. I wore a flannel night coat. My bed was expertly made. Covers that were tucked in stayed in. When I finally did get a cold it was due to carelessness. Incidentally, I have heard that wearing a night cap is an aid to cold prevention. I may try it. Am not going to wear an old fashioned nightcap. I will use the beret I bought in Paris.

West Va. Race Meeting Breaks Up When Press Is Barred

Roy Graham Objects And Takes Walk

Ambrose Also Asked Horsemen To Leave Charleston Session

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 26 (AP)—The West Virginia Racing Commission never left the starting gate today at its meeting to discuss possible December racing dates at Charles Town.

At an earlier meeting the commission turned down Charles Town's application for Dec. 1-22 dates because the horse track did not agree to minimum purse requirements.

Last week, however, Charles Town agreed to meet the commission's minimum purse requirement of 4 per cent of the daily parimutuel handle, and the commission agreed to reconsider the application today.

Chairman John Ambrose was a late starter, flying here late this afternoon from his Charles Town home. Commissioner Roy Graham of Huntington was waiting for him.

The third commissioner, Ralph LePore of Wheeling, was grounded there and unable to attend. Two commissioners make a meeting quorum.

Accompanying Ambrose and Graham into the meeting were two newsmen and two representatives of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn., which has criticized Charles Town for the size of its purses.

Ambrose, the only commissioner to vote at the earlier meeting to allow Charles Town to race next month, promptly asked the newsmen and horsemen to leave. Graham objected.

"This should be an open meeting," he said.

Ambrose repeated his request and the newsmen got up to leave. Graham, a fast starter, retorted to Ambrose:

"Excuse me then too, John," and was off and running for the door, reaching the hall ahead of either of the newsmen.

Graham headed home to Huntington. Ambrose looked up flight schedules to Charles Town.

There was no indication when the commission would meet again to take up the Charles Town dates.

Maryland And Navy Booters To Clash For Tourney Berth

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Navy and Maryland will square off tomorrow in a playoff game to represent the Southern area in the Intercollegiate Soccer Football Assn. of America tournament.

Each team was beaten once this season. Navy 1-0 by Yale and Maryland 3-0 by Penn State. Navy won 10 games and Maryland eight.

The playoff game will be at Johns Hopkins.

The winner will meet West Chester State Teachers College. If it is Navy, the game will be played Friday in Philadelphia. If it is Maryland, the game will be played Saturday in College Park.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP)—James Keely, Baltimore Orioles president, was en route to San Antonio, Tex., today for a conference with other club officials "to review the overall picture" of the Orioles' farm team there.

Oriole officials have expressed concern about dwindling fan interest in the Texas League entry, which drew only 100,000 last season. This was a drop of about 50,000 from 1955.

Expected to arrive with Keely was William Walsingham Jr., the new Oriole executive vice president scheduled to join him at St. Louis.

Besides Keely and Walsingham, the San Antonio conference will include Jim McLaughlin, Oriole farm director, and Manager-General Manager Paul Richards.

Two One-Point Wins One-Day Doe Season

By C. V. BURNS

CONTRARY to earlier reports, the Cumberland Valley Athletic League schools will participate in a four-team basketball league during the 1956-57 season with North Hagerstown, Fort Hill, Martinsburg and Frederick battling for the honors.

Handley and Allegany, members of the football league, will not compete.

At the December 5 meeting of the league, scheduled at the Berkeley Springs Hotel, South Hagerstown and Westminster are expected to join the circuit but will not participate in basketball during the coming season.

Victor D. Heisey, president of the league, reports that the league will hold an afternoon session and a dinner meeting on the night of December 5.

ONLY TWO of the many football games played by high schools in the tri-state area were decided by the margin of a point after touchdown this year.

Farmington edged Romney and Beall High nosed out LaSalle in the season finale, both games ending in 7-6 scores.

A total of six safeties were recorded in the high school contests.

There were two scoreless ties, one between Moorefield and Greenbank and the other involving Allegany and Martinsburg.

Fort Hill and the West Virginia School for the Deaf rolled up the highest scores of the season, both 52-0. The victims were Beall and Circleville.

WHEN Keyser High School defeated Mullens on Thanksgiving Day at Beckley to capture the West Virginia Class A football title it was the 11th championship team turned out by Prof. Frederick "Tack" Clark in 14 years at the Miner county school.

The one-time Allegany High School four sports star made his debut at Keyser High in 1943, transferring from Moorefield where he spent four years as coach.

In 1944, 1945 and 1947 his Keyser basketball teams won P.V.C. titles, winning 31 of 32 games in that circuit.

His football teams won conference titles in 1943, 1948, 1949, 1952, 1954, 1955 and 1956 and this year's eleven rounded out an 11-0 record by also annexing state honors.

JIM TURBIN, Keyser High center, has been named on the West Virginia All-State team, selected by the sports writers of the state. Turbin also was named on the all-PVC eleven for the second straight year.

Norman Groves, Keyser High tackle, made the second All-State team, and Bill Clevenger, Keyser quarterback, was given honorable mention. The three Keyser standouts are seniors.

Jerry Kelican, backfield ace of Coach Dick Harmon's Charles Town High eleven also made the All-State selections.

A REPORT issued by the Pittsburgh Pirates shows the Buccos 1956 home attendance of 949,878, an increase of 480,481 over 1955, was the largest since 1951 when they attracted 980,590 into Forbes Field.

All previous attendance records were shattered at 48-year-old Forbes Field Sunday, Sept. 23 when 44,932 jammed their way into the park to watch the Pirates and Brooklyn play. The previous highs were 43,810 on Oct. 13, 1925 when the Pirates played Washington in the 6th game of the World Series and when the Bucs met Cincinnati before 42,254 in a night game on Aug. 12, 1940.

Five times this year Forbes Field crowds went over the 30,000 mark and seven times the crowd was more than 20,000 paid.

Brooklyn was the best drawing card in 1956 with 197,046 total attendance.

Pittsburgh drew 874,133 in other National parks, which is the best road gate since the Buccaneers went over the million mark in 1949.

AUTHORITY to declare a one-day doe season in Maryland will be asked at the forthcoming session of the State Legislature by the Maryland Inland Game and Fish Commission.

Director Ernest Vaughn says the bill will ask that the commission be empowered to call a doe season "in such counties deemed advisable, after a study, and at the discretion of the commission."

Vaughn stated the doe season is needed in areas where overpopulations of the white tails are damaging vegetation.

In Western Maryland, deer are reported to be overbrowsed to the extent of damaging trees in state forests and orchards. Truck farm crops on the Eastern Shore also are damaged by deer, Vaughn said.

Introduction of a doe season has proved highly controversial in most states which allow deer hunting.

SEVERAL coaches have suggested that the system of determining Allegany county's Class A and B representatives in the district basketball tourney be changed and their arguments will be heard at a meeting to be held soon.

They favor the top teams in the W.M.I. league going to the district tournament instead of determining the representatives of their season series with other schools in their classification.

The "A" schools in the league are Allegany, Beall and Fort Hill while the "B" schools are Valley, Mt. Savage and Bruce.

For instance, if Valley High, a Class B school, finishes in first place in the W.M.I. League, these coaches feel the Black Knights would qualify for the tourney.

If Allegany finishes in second place the Campers would be the county's "A" representative.

In other words, the coaches favor the teams with the best records in the league to represent this county.

Whether the other coaches will agree to the change remains to be seen.

Turpin Scores TKO, Cops British Title

LEICESTER, England, Nov. 26 (AP)—Randy Turpin won the vacant British light-heavyweight championship tonight by scoring a fifth round technical knockout over Alex Buxton. Each fighter weighed 175 pounds.

Turpin, former world middleweight champion, had too much power in close and at long range for his opponent. Buxton kept rushing forward but hardly landed a half dozen solid punches.

McNew, Darkhorse, Pulls Surprise In Cross Country Run

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 26 (AP)—Walter McNew, an overlooked entry from the University of Texas, put on a blazing finish to win the 18th annual NCAA cross country run in a good time of 19:55.7 here today.

McNew, a junior from Amarillo, Tex., turned on the steam to sprint the last half mile despite 27-degree cold and three inches of snow that made treacherously slippery footing over the four-mile course.

McNew overhauled favored Henry Kennedy of Michigan State, winner of the Big Ten and ICA meets and previously unbeaten this season. The slender, 5-8, 124-pound Texan finished going away, 80 yards ahead of the second place Jim Beatty of North Carolina.

Gaylord Denslow and Selwyn Jones, both of Michigan State, finished fourth and fifth to secure MSU the team title with a low of 28 points.

At Oakland, Bob Cain paced the formidable Mountain Top effort with 293 points and set high individual mark for the meet. Jim Grosh and Jim Spitznogle, each with scores of 281, led the beaten Hercules crew on the local range.

Tennessee May Battle Baylor In Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26 (INS) — It looks like Baylor and Tennessee will be the opposing forces in the New Year's Day Sugar Bowl classic.

Fred Digby, general manager of the Sugar Bowl, hinted to the New Orleans Quarterback Club today that the Southwest Conference team will be invited to play in the bowl Jan. 1.

"That's a very good guess," Digby said when asked if the Bears will be bowl bound if they defeat Rice Saturday in their season finale.

Baylor has a 7-2 record.

Indications are that unbeaten Tennessee will receive and accept an invitation Saturday, despite the outcome of its game with Vanderbilt.

Sooners Lead By 95 Points In Grid Poll

Oklahoma Nearing 2nd Straight Title

By BOB HOOBING
The Associated Press

Oklahoma's slick Sooners have moved within sight of their second straight national football championship after receiving another vote of confidence from writers and broadcasters.

With the final balloting only a week away, Oklahoma held a 95-point bulge over runnerup Tennessee in the latest balloting.

The Sooners, tied with Washington (1909-14) for the all-time record of consecutive victories at 39, convinced 81 of the 159 participating sports writers and announcers they deserved first spot.

As a result, Oklahoma ran up 1,448 points to unbeaten, untied Tennessee's 1,353 on the basis of 10 points for a first place ballot, nine for a second etc. The Volunteers from Knoxville drew 49 firsts.

Both play another game before the final poll—Oklahoma against the Oklahoma Aggies and Tennessee against Vanderbilt.

Iowa, which has completed its best season since 1922 with the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl trip, held third place for a repeat of last week's 1-2-3 finish. The Hawkeyes drew 12 firsts and 1,144 points.

Georgia Tech, which swept past fast-moving and highly-rated Florida 28-0, moved up from fifth fourth in a switch with unbeaten, once-tied Texas A&M. Tech amassed 1,028 points to 902 for the Aggies.

The remainder of the top 10 in order was Miami, Michigan, Syracuse, Michigan State and Minnesota.

The top 10 teams with first place votes in parentheses and won-lost records (points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1. Oklahoma (81) 9-0 1,448

Track-Field Forces Win 7 Of 11 Medals For U.S.

Americans Pile Up 172 Points; Richards Repeats, Yale Victor

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE, Nov. 26 (AP)—United States track and field forces, having captured seven of the 11 gold medals already won by America's athletes, figured to add two more tomorrow and increase their unofficial team lead over Russia in the 1956 Olympics.

The high-riding Yanks are winning gold medals and setting Olympic and world marks at a record rate, having already captured seven of nine events in the men's track and four of seven weightlifting medals.

U. S. Far In Front

As a result, the U.S. is far in front in team point totals with 172 points to 107 for the second place Russians. Germany is third with 52½, Sweden fourth with 42 and Italy fifth with 40.

In addition, the U.S. is almost certain to win the 200 meters run and discuss throw tomorrow and should take a dominant position in the rowing and basketball events.

There also is a chance that U.S. rowers, who qualified in a record six of seven final events, might break through the championship monopoly hung up by the track and field and weightlifting aces.

Basketeers Advance

The six of seven U.S. crews, including the powerful varsity eight from Yale University, will vie in the semifinals. The

Green Bay Draws Paul Hornung As Bonus Choice

Len Dawson Is Drafted By Steelers

Brown Of Syracuse Is Cleveland Pick; 49 Players Chosen

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Green Bay Packers selected Notre Dame quarterback Paul Hornung as their National Football League bonus choice today after Head Coach Lisle Blackbourn drew the lucky slip from the hat at the pro football draft meeting.

In the first round of the regular draft, Jon Arnett, Southern California halfback, selected by the Los Angeles Rams, was the number one choice. The 12-teams selected according to the standings as of yesterday with the last place club first and the first-place team last.

Steelers Pick Dawson
Grabbed quickly in the first round were such 1956 college All-America prospects as Stanford's passing ace, John Brodie, second choice named by San Francisco; Don Kramer, Michigan end, tapped by Green Bay; Len Dawson, Purdue quarterback, picked by Pittsburgh; Jim Brown, Syracuse halfback, selected by Cleveland, and Clarence Peaks, Michigan State halfback, drawn by Philadelphia.

Commissioner Bert Bell presided over the partial draft session—the teams selected four rounds—called to meet the early Canadian League competition for American football talent. The final 26 rounds of the annual player draft will be held during the league's mid-January meeting.

Only the Packers and the Chicago Cardinals participated in the bonus selection since under league rules all previous winners of the bonus player drop out until every team in the league has been successful in the out-of-the-hat draw.

The Cardinals thus automatically will get the bonus selection next year.

Praises Hornung
The Green Bay coach described Hornung, a 6-2, 210-pound quarterback, as having "the greatest potential of all Notre Dame backs. He is a great natural athlete, a tremendous competitor, has great speed, and can take the punishment dealt in the National Football League."

Blackbourn said Hornung was a good punter, a kickoff man, field goal and extra point kicker, and a good defensive player.

The selection of Hornung by Green Bay was a mild surprise in some quarters since it was thought the Packers were interested in hardrunning halfbacks to make their present quarterback, Tobin Rote, even more effective. The selection indicated the recent report that Rote would retire from pro ball at the end of this season bore more truth than fiction. Blackbourn, however, said he did not believe Rote would retire.

Cards Draft Tubbs
Other first round choices were Jim Parker, Ohio State guard, by Baltimore; Don Bosseler, Miami fullback, by Washington; Jerry Tubbs, Oklahoma center, by Chicago Cardinals; Del Shofner, Baylor halfback, by Los Angeles (New York Giants' choice secured in a previous trade); Bill Glass, Baylor guard, by Detroit; and Earl Leggett, Louisiana State tackle, by the Bears.

In all, 49 players were drafted from 35 colleges, with Michigan of the Big Ten the top contributor with three players—star ends Kramer and Tom Maentz, who went to the Cardinals on the second round, and Terry Barr, a halfback drafted by Detroit in the third round.

Baylor was the only team to be represented by two players in the first round—Shofner, a rugged running halfback, and Glass, the 220-pound guard.

Rhubarb Develops
No NFL meeting would be complete without a rhubarb and this was no exception. George Halas of the Chicago Bears and Edwin Anderson, president of the Detroit Lions, led a floor fight to make eligible for the pro draft players in the Pacific Coast Conference ruled ineligible for further college competition for alleged recruitment violation.

Anderson finally put the point to a motion but it fell short of the necessary unanimous approval when Baltimore's Don Kelllett cast a "no" vote, declaring the league should stick by its ruling prohibiting the drafting of any player before his class has graduated, whether or not he has made himself ineligible or his college has done so.

The Chicago Bears created a mild stir when in the third round they drafted Ron Knox, former UCLA quarterback who played with several Canadian teams this past fall.

Boxers Rematched
NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (INS)—The International Boxing Club announced today that former welterweight champion Tony DeMarco of Boston and Gaspar Ortega of Mexico have been signed for a rematch on Dec. 21 at Madison Square Garden. Ortega won a split decision verdict over DeMarco last Friday night.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, NOV. 26 (INS)—No, Virginia, not all the former champions of the ring wound up either broke or punch drunk or both.

Most of them are doing all right in private life and some are millionaires. It may be that two or three are mentally and physically ill, a few have lost all they made in the ring and quite a few hold ordinary jobs.

Let's take a fast look at some of them. Gene Tunney, as almost everybody knows, is a millionaire industrialist with a finger in many financial pies.

Jack Dempsey is in the same category with real estate holdings, a restaurant and an assured heavy income besides from refereeing.

Jersey Joe Walcott, we hear, is in with motels, and Ez Charles may be a little land poor with really so keeps fighting for walk around money.

Joe Louis can make $50,000 a year without trouble, refereeing and personal appearances and his job with Jim Norris, but he's still far in hock to Uncle Sam's tax man.

Jim Braddock is sitting pretty, thank you, with his marine supply business and some sidelines, and Max Baer's annuities take nice care of him if he never does a tap of work.

Primo Carnera is still doing all right as a wrestler, and Jack Sharkey can fish to his heart's content with no financial problems.

Max Schmeling has a big mink ranch in Germany. Max is and always was a sound businessman with a pretty good right hand.

Not all the light heavyweight champions were as lucky. Mike McTigue has been seriously ill in a hospital for a long time and last we heard Paul Berlenbach also was ill. Jack Delaney, Bat Levinsky and Battling Siki are dead.

Tommy Loughran is doing all right with various irons in the fire, and Maxie Rosenbloom is having big success as an actor. Fact is, Maxie packs more punch as an actor than he ever did as a fighter.

Bob Olin has a highly successful restaurant, and Billy Conn is sitting on top of the world with oil wells and a used car business.

Last we heard of poor little Beau Jack he was back home down south shining shoes for a living, and Lew Jenkins for all we know to the contrary may be back in the army.

Fellows like Jimmy McLarnin and Jake LaMotta can live on their interest but many others either own their own bistros like Pete Herman and Tony Canzoneri or they are selling beer like Sixto Escobar and Pete Scalzo.

And, just one more Virginia—Henry Armstrong is an evangelist.

Oregon State Is Iowa's Foe In Rose Bowl

Coast Conference Approves Beavers

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Oregon State College Beavers today were unanimously selected as the Pacific Coast Conference team to meet Iowa of the Big Ten in the Pasadena Rose Bowl game Jan. 1.

The confirming vote by the nine PCC schools, announced by Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt, was hardly a surprise.

Oregon State clinched the conference title Nov. 17 although the Beavers had a narrow squeak that day over lowly Idaho, 14-10. A 14-14 tie with Oregon Thanksgiving Day did not hurt the Oregon State chances.

Oregon State finished with a 6-1-1 record in the PCC. The next three teams, Southern California and UCLA tied at 5-2 and Washington next at 4-4, were ineligible for the PCC championship or the Rose Bowl because of conference sanctions for improper financial aid to athletes.

The Oregon State overall record this season was 7-2-1.

Within the PCC the Beavers beat California 21-13, Washington State 21-0, UCLA 21-7, Washington 28-20, Stanford 20-19 and Idaho 14-10; lost to Southern California 21-13 and tied Oregon 14-14.

Outside the conference Oregon State beat Missouri 19-13 and lost to Iowa 14-13 at Iowa City.

FRONT AND CENTER - - - By Alan Maver

Thus this will be the first rematch in the Rose Bowl of teams which met during the regular season.

The Big Ten confirmed selection of the Iowa Hawkeyes Saturday night. It is the first Big Ten title for Iowa since 1921 and their first trip to the Rose Bowl.

The Hawkeyes finished their season last Saturday with a resounding 48-8 win over Notre Dame. Iowa had a 5-1 Big Ten and an 8-1 overall record.

Posts Second Win At Pimlico Track

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP)—Top mark gained his second straight victory of the Pimlico meeting here today in the $4,000 Timonium Purse, winning the 5½-furlong seventh race in easy fashion while scoring by a length and a half over Twayblade.

Returning a $6.40 mutuel as the second of three winning favorites on the card, the Ada L. Rice colorbearer was timed in 1:06 2-5 over a fast track on this threatening afternoon.

A crowd of 9,023 fans was checked in at the turnstiles during the day, and the mutuel handle on the eight races totaled $863,705.

In the Timonium Purse an early speed duel developed between Arch Rival, Our Year and Twayblade. Anderson rated Top Mark off this swift pace, then sent him forward with a rush entering the home stretch.

Arch Rival, the king of the halfers, was the first to weaken. Twayblade and Our Year continued their battle for second money right down to the wire with the former prevailing by a length.

Dave Gorman, leading rider of the Laurel meeting with 17 winners, took the lead in the Pimlico standings by registering two victories, to bring his Pimlico total to 13.

The first compulsory education law was passed in 1852.

Writing a piece rapping the Trendex ratings was thought about and dismissed. Sounds too apologetic. Besides, our ratings, at least this season, are quite satisfactory. Writing a piece praising the Trendex rating was also considered and also discarded. We might not be this lucky next year and who wants his words flung back into his teeth?

Talking about the sacred obligation a comedian has to a public which admits him into its living room has already been done. Perhaps even done.

Dashing off a little essay about the "teamwork" necessary in creating a successful TV comedy program sounds as patronizing as a movie queen clutching an Oscar to her bosom and limply thanking "all the grips and prop men and everybody else who made this all possible."

When the floor of our living room at home was piled this high with rejected beginnings, I was about ready to call it quits and tell Crosby's office to go get themselves Eric Sevareid or Ed Murrow who always have something valid to say and can say it literately.

Then it happened. The boy arrived with the evening papers and there was this critic winding up and letting loose a broadside at TV humor. His rage was pretty towering as he tore off the following:

"Wit in America seems rapidly to be approaching its nadir as television moves along. The level of creativity sinks lower and lower each viewing evening. The want of comic originality and the

Flood Control Walls, Levees To Be Inspected

Winter Work Set On Creek Contracts

The final inspection of portions of the series of levees and flood walls which will protect Cumberland and Ridgeley from Potomac River floods will be made by the Corps of Engineers on December 5.

The inspection will begin at 1:30 p. m. and will be made by representatives of the Washington District, Corps of Engineers, the local Corps of Engineers office and the E. J. Albrecht Company, contractor for the project.

Invitations to participate in the tour have been extended to the Mayor and Council.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, said the inspection will include the West Ridgeley flood wall and levee, the Kelly Boulevard work and a portion of the levees upstream of the existing flood wall in West Cumberland.

The inspection is planned, he said, to determine whether the Corps of Engineers will accept the work from the contractor.

Is Nearly Done

Portions of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project have been turned over to the City of Cumberland for maintenance following such final inspections.

The work to be inspected includes about 90 per cent of Section 1 of the Potomac River phase of the $18,000,000 project. Still to be completed is a short section of levee in Ridgeley between the approach to the new Blue Bridge and Ridgeley High School.

Seeding of levees in East Ridgeley and in West Cumberland, from the Moose Home down is to be deferred until weather permits.

Crews are now placing rip-rap on the stream face of levees in West Cumberland and East Ridgeley.

The heavy stone paving is placed on portions of the levees which are subject to erosion from surging currents during high water.

Work To Continue

Work on the flood protection project will continue through the winter as weather permits, according to Dexter.

The contractors will have to pour concrete through the winter, he said, to keep Wills Creek work on schedule.

To do so, they will provide heating facilities and cover during the 14 days when the concrete must be kept above freezing.

Winter finds the E. J. Albrecht Company working on Wills Creek Sections 2 and 3, ahead of schedule and the Hazelwood Construction Company making better progress on Section 4 but still behind schedule.

Area Is Protected

Near the mouth of Wills Creek, Hazelwood crews have poured enough toe and slope wall to protect the lower end of the existing wall near the canal intake locks in case water should hit.

Several hundred feet of piling has also been driven just below the Baltimore Street Bridge to protect the existing wall while the creek bed is excavated for new walls and floor.

Upstream of the bridge, the company has poured about 500 feet of the first of four rows of slabs which will form the floor of the new channel, and is getting ready to pour slope walls.

Ahead of Schedule

Albrecht crews have about completed excavation work on the east side of the creek, have poured about 800 feet of slope wall from the upstream end down and have built about 400 feet of vertical wall.

Work on the west side of the creek is completed in that area, and an interceptor sewer which runs to near Valley Street Bridge is virtually completed.

Dexter said the Albrecht firm plans to continue through the winter as weather permits, and will stress pipe work.

The firm also plans to pour sections of toe wall, which is easiest to protect from freezing.

Albrecht also has completed excavation for the Ridgeley pumping station and its control chamber.

The foundation of the station has been completed up to the floor of the pumping chamber.

The firm also has the contract to build the viaduct and Mill Race pumping stations.

Car Insurance Problems Are Discussed Here

Legislators from Western Maryland met here yesterday with the Allegany-Garrett Association of Insurance Agents to discuss the issues of automobile insurance.

The conference was held at a luncheon meeting in the Fort Cumberland Hotel and attended by some 30 members of the association and virtually all legislators from Allegany and Garrett counties.

David T. Davis, president, presided at the session which was also attended by officials of the Maryland Association of insurance agents.

Business included a discussion on the pros and cons of compulsory automobile insurance and the unsatisfactory claim and judgment plan.

The latter program would call for setting up a fund to reimburse motorists for damages suffered from uninsured motorists from Maryland or other states or hit and run drivers.

Senator Clifford Friend, of Garrett County, one of the legislators present, was a member of a General Assembly committee which studied the problem.

The meeting was one of a series attended by Allegany County legislators in preparation for the 1957 session of the General Assembly.

Sen. Charles M. See and the Allegany County Delegation will sit tonight at 8 o'clock in the Lonaconing council chamber to hear proposals of businessmen of that area.

All others who are interested in discussing any legislative program are invited to attend the session.

Curran Will Talk To ICEC Group

D. L. Curran, area supervisor for the Green Ridge Forestry Camp, State Department of Public Welfare, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of Allegheny County Chapter 266, International Council for Exceptional Children, today at 8 p. m. at the Board of Education office.

Margaret E. Faulk, president of the county chapter, announced yesterday that Mr. Curran will discuss the organization and reconstruction of the Green Ridge Forestry Camp now being used for the rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents.

Any person interested professionally in exceptional children is welcome to become a member of the chapter, which is conducting a membership drive this month.

Girl Scout To Speak At Lions Luncheon

Two Senior Girl Scouts will be the guests of the Lions Club at its weekly luncheon Wednesday at 12:15 in the Community Room of Central YMCA.

Miss Mary Jane Howell and Miss Alice Bartlett will tell of their experiences attending the first Girl Scout Round-up held last summer in Michigan.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick, Bowling Green, has returned to his duties in Trial Magistrates Court here after being away from his office for the past three weeks because of illness.

Campaign Expenses Filed In Courts

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 26 (AP)—Sen. John Marshall Butler's successful campaign for re-election cost more than $123,000, according to a report filed by his campaign treasurer in Frederick County Circuit Court.

The report, filed by William Wallace of Braddock Heights, listed the Republican senator's campaign expenses and contributions at $123,176.37.

Wallace enumerated 575 contributions, ranging from $5 to $7,000.

Crews Are Busy As Dust Clogs Gas Orifices

Plunging temperatures have added to the problems of the service department of the gas company here.

Service crews have been busy since cold weather arrived, clearing particles of dust from the orifices of gas appliances.

The trouble, a spokesman said, results from dust in the lines, drawn into the small openings of the appliances.

Crews have been keeping up with the calls for service, the company said.

Showers Is Named To Legion Committee

Roland G. Showers, past commander of Knobel Mountain Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, and service officer of the organization for many years, has been named a general member of the Veterans Preference Committee of the American Legion.

Mr. Showers received notification in a letter from W. C. "Dan" Daniel, national commander, who pointed out that he was named a member of the committee in recognition and appreciation of the splendid service rendered to the Legion.

Department officers of Maryland recommended Mr. Showers, and his term will run until the close of the 1957 fall meeting of the National Executive Committee.

Needed: 3 Trees

City Plans Traditional Rites To Mark Yuletide

The traditional Christmas Tree Lighting ceremony of the City of Cumberland will be held Sunday, December 16, at 9 p. m. on the site of old Fort Cumberland.

Plans for the ceremony which will officially usher in the Yuletide here were completed at a meeting yesterday in City Hall.

Attending were Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, Mrs. Marguerite Findlay and Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk.

Mrs. Findlay was asked to take complete charge of decorations for the displays in the city, and Ullery was asked to prepare the program for the tree lighting ceremony, which is expected to include community singing of the familiar Christmas carols.

The major display, as usual, will be on the grounds of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, and Mrs. Findlay said new decorations will include a camel to be placed in the Wise Men group and two additional Herald Angels.

The group of carol singers, she said, may be used as the major decorations for City Hall rotunda. Hundreds of small Christmas trees will be used in the displays, and will be secured from the Lake Gordon area.

But Commissioner Buchholtz issued an urgent plea for three large trees to be used for the lighting ceremony and at park areas at Race and Seymour streets and at Valley Street.

Wanted particularly are Norway spruce from 25 to 30 feet tall.

He urged anyone who has such trees to call City Hall.

Registration For Voting Resumed Here

The registration of prospective voters in Allegany County has resumed at the office of the County Board of Election Supervisors located in the basement of the Court House building.

William A. Wilson, president of the board, announced yesterday that the books were reopened on November 17, 10 days following the general election, and thus far one person has registered. The prospective women voter signed up as a Republican.

The office is open from 9 a. m. until noon and from 1 p. m. until 4 p. m. Monday through Friday, and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturday.

Persons may also make a change of address or change of party affiliation, the latter up until six months prior to a primary election.

Workers at the local office are busy checking binder books to determine that each voter who cast his ballot in the past election will get proper credit for doing so.

Such binder books go to the various polling places during an election and list the registered voters entitled to cast a ballot.

Persons who do not vote for five calendar years are required to re-register in order to vote. Notices are sent to those persons in order that they may register and have a vote.

Roeder Buys Land From B&O

A tract of land adjoining the Blue White parking lot on South George Street has been conveyed to Charles Paul Roeder, owner of the parking facility, by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Roeder said yesterday the transaction has been completed and a deed for the property will be recorded at the Court House today.

The land acquired, along the northerly side of the parking lot, will serve to straighten out boundary lines and make possible expansion of his motel, Roeder said.

This acquisition is in addition to a lease arrangement with the B and O for parking cars alongside the company's freight shed adjacent to the parking lot and for use of other land in the vicinity for public parking.

Roeder said yesterday the new second story concrete deck to his parking facility is completed and has been opened. The lot now has two entrances, the old one in front of Spoel's Garage and the new one on George Street, in front of the motel.

The parking facility will now accommodate 250 automobiles, he said.

Police Plan Services For Yule Shoppers

Extra Officers, New Taxi Stand Slated

The Police Department will welcome everyone who comes to Cumberland to do their Christmas shopping, and will do its best to see that parking facilities are available.

The pledge was made yesterday by Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan in announcing plans for special services for shoppers during the Yuletide.

Two auxiliary policemen, he said, will be placed on duty on Fridays and Saturdays until Christmas week, when they will work full time.

One of the auxiliary policemen will be assigned to George Street to help shoppers find parking space and the other will be spotted where he is most needed.

The special officers will help motorists find parking facilities and assist in any way they can.

Signs will be placed on Baltimore Street, he said, indicating routes to parking lots and the new taxi stand.

The stand, Mr. Keegan said, will be moved back to North Centre Street, just off Baltimore Street, beginning December 1.

It will remain there until after the holidays or a little longer, until another location can be worked out.

For some weeks, the cab stand has been located on South Centre Street, opposite the Telephone building.

The commissioner said independent cabs, which do not have two-way radios, report they have difficulty making a living from the location, which is a block away from Baltimore Street.

Additional service is also being provided during the Christmas shopping season by the Cumberland Transit Lines.

Seed Trees Allocated For District

Nearly 2,000,000 seedling trees, ranging in age from one to three years, have been allocated for planting in the four westernmost counties of Maryland next spring.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said he has received a breakdown of the various trees which will be planted as part of a reforestation and soil conservation plan.

Mr. Johnson has received a report on the number of trees from H. C. Buckingham, state forester, and the seedlings will be shipped from the nursery at Harmons.

The trees, which are from five to 14 inches, will be available to landowners free of charge provided they qualify in the reforestation and soil conservation project.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that the minimum number of trees is 250 per landowner and 1,000 trees per acre is the usual number planted in an area.

Farmers who are retiring land in the Soil Bank program and other landowners may apply for the trees at the local office in the Court House building.

However, according to Johnson, the trees may not be harvested for use as Christmas trees, and they may not be harvested for any other purpose until after 15 years.

A breakdown of the trees allocated for Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties is as follows: 834,000 red pine; 374,000 white pine; 96,000 Scotch pine; 15,000 Virginia pine; 45,000 Austrian pine; 10,000 loblolly pine; 400 Himalayan pine (which will be planted on an experimental basis); 100,000 fir trees; 17,000 larch; 157,000 Norway spruce; 150,000 white spruce and 5,000 black locust.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that some 358,000 trees have been allocated for District 2 which comprises Southern Maryland, 765,000 to District 3 along the Eastern Shore, and 542,000 to District 4 in the northern section of the state.

Roth Acquitted Of Perjury In Garrett Trial

Judges Deliberate Only 30 Minutes

Irvin Roth, a member of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, was acquitted of perjury yesterday following an all-day trial in Garrett County Circuit Court at Oakland.

The court was unable to find him guilty because of lack of evidence.

Roth was indicted by the September grand jury for perjury in connection with his testimony concerning a dispute in which he had differed with the two other board members concerning drilling operations at a stone quarry.

The case was heard in a non-jury trial by Chief Judge George Henderson, Associate Judge Kenneth McLaughlin, of Hagerstown, and Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Testimony was completed about 3:30 p. m. and the decision was handed down about half an hour later. Roth was the only defense witness, while a number of persons testified for the state.

Roth allegedly denied in testimony before the grand jury that he knew about drilling operations at the quarry, which produces stone for Garrett County road work.

The defendant was represented by William C. Walsh, this city, Horace P. Whitworth Sr. and Horace P. Whitworth Jr., of Westport. The state's case was presented by State Attorney Stephen T. Pagenhardt, who was assisted by Stuart F. Hamill Jr.
